

Johannes Bitzer

Is ex chairman and professor emeritus of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University Hospitals Basel Switzerland

He was President of the European Society of Contraception and Reproductive Health during 6 years and Former President of the International Society of Psychosomatic Obstetrics and Gynecology;

He served on the Board of the International Society of Menopause (IMS) the European Society of Sexual Medicine (ESSM).

He is on the Board of the European Andropause and Menopause Society (EMAS) and the International Society for Sexual Health (ISSM).

He is member of the Executive Board of the European Board and College of Obstetrics and Gynecology (EBCOG)

His research and practical interest is in gynecologic endocrinology, sexual and reproductive health and the interface between obstetrics/gynecology and psychology/psychiatry

He gave more than 200 invited lectures all over the world and published more 200 papers in peer reviewed journals. He is the Editor in Chief of the European Journal of Contraception and Reproductive Health and Associate Editor of the Journal of Sexual Medicine.