

Angelique Goverde

Angelique Goverde is consultant gynaecologist at the University Medical Centre in Utrecht, the Netherlands, with a focus on reproductive endocrinology and paediatric & adolescent gynaecology. She holds a PhD in reproductive medicine. Her publication list is around 45 papers, including four book chapters. In 2019 she was appointed as local director of postgraduate training in Obstetrics and Gynaecology.

She has been involved in the European Board and College of Obstetrics and Gynaecology (EBCOG) since 1999, focusing on postgraduate training and faculty development. She has served as Chair of the standing committee on Training and Assessment of EBCOG since 2014 until May 2021. Under her guidance, the EBCOG postgraduate training curriculum for Obstetrics and Gynaecology has been completely revised, and published under the title Project for Achieving Consensus in Training (EBCOG-PACT). She was also involved in the development of the post-specialty training curriculum in Paediatric and Adolescent Gynaecology which was published in 2020.