

Lukas D. Klentzeris

MD (Ath) CCST (UK) Dr. Med (Sheffield) FRCOG (London)

Dr.Klentzeris qualified from the Medical School of the University of Athens, Greece. After completion of the compulsory military service in the Greek Airforce for 2 years, he moved to England where he trained in the specialty of Obs & Gyn and in the subspecialty of reproductive medicine. In England he worked for 20 continuous years. His most recent posts in England were:

- Research Fellow at the University of Sheffield-Completion and Award of the MD thesis
- Clinical Lecturer Obs & Gyn University of Nottingham-Queens Medical Centre
- Senior Clinical Lecturer/Hon. Consultant Obs & Gyn Univesrity of Warwick-Coventry
- Consultant and Medical Director IVF Unit University Hospital of Wales-Cardiff

Dr.Klentzeris returned to Athens in 2003 and since then he has been working as Senior Consultant in Obs / Gyn and Reproductive Medicine at MHTERA MATERNITY Hospital – Athens.

He has been an invited speaker in a large number of national and international meetings; has organized many national and international Symposia His research in IVF has been awarded by the EAGO and the British Fertility Society.

He has supervised postgraduate students for their MD or PhD thesis and has acted as an external examiner for European Universities.

Dr.Klentzeris is the Editor – in - Chief of the official journal of the Greek Obstetricians and Gynecologists which is called 'THEMATA MAIEYTIKHS & GYNAIKOLOGIAS'