

Ziva Novak

Retired specialist of Ob Gyn. Was active in EBCOG: SCTA chair, introduced TTT. Since retirement works at the Institute of Medical Trainers, PRIZMA project, Free Ideas Center and is a certified SDI trainer. Medical Trainers are physicians, psychologist and medical students who train health care professionals generic skills. PRIZMA project deals with prevention of burnout in health care professionals. In Free Ideas Center the members are looking for creative solutions based on thinking tools of Dr Edward de Bono and others. SDI, Strength Deployment Inventory, helps to understand why people behave as they do; and decreases conflicts. Her main interest is how to prevent burnout among health care professionals which is high; prevention should start with the start of career and should be a continuous process